

WE'LL GET YOUR PROPERTY SEEN IN ALL THE RIGHT PLACES

If you read any of the main national newspapers and property magazines on a regular basis, you will have already seen Phillips & Stubbs in the property sections. Through Property Desk at Mayfair Office we are able to promote local houses for sale in the national press.

Newspapers including the Daily Telegraph, Evening Standard, Times and Independent frequently run editorial features on all types of property we are marketing thereby exposing them to a wider audience. This promotional service comes at no extra charge to our clients and with our experienced staff providing valuable local knowledge, combined with a professional, personalised service associated with a reputable independent firm, we are able to maximise marketing initiatives and to successfully sell a wide variety of property types across the price spectrum.

If you are contemplating selling your home, contact Phillips & Stubbs for free, realistic marketing advice and we will show you how to get your home seen in all the right places.
